C) ECONOMIC INFORMATION

Tax regime	The Fund is subject to a tax of 0.05% per annum, except 0.01% per annum in relation to Class I and IDI Units, levied of the Net Asset Value at the last day of each calendar quarter, in accordance with the 2002 Law of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. The Council of European Union adopted on June 3, 2003 Directive 2003/48/EC (the Savings Directive) on taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments which provides for the taxation of interest payments made in one Member State of the European Union ("EU Member State") to individuals who are resident of another EU Member State. Such Directive has come into force on July 1, 2005. The taxation of such interest payments will be achieved through the exchange of information between the European Union Member States. The Luxembourg withholding tax will be of 20% from July 1, 2008 until June 30, 2011 and of 35% as from July 1, 2011. Therefore a withholding tax could apply when a Luxembourg paying agent makes distributions (a reinvested dividend is considered as distribution payment) and redemption of Units (including redemption in kind) for the benefit of a Unitholder who is an individual residing in another EU Member State. Unitholders may upon request be brought within the exchange of information as provided by the Savings Directive which would result in information regarding the distribution or redemption being provided to the tax authority in the country where they are resident. Under present Luxembourg law, there are no other Luxembourg taxes payable by the Fund or by Unitholders in respect of their Units in the Fund, except by Unitholders who are domiciled in, or are residents of or have a permanent establishment in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg and except by certain former Luxembourg residents. Prospective Unitholders should consult their own tax advisers as to the taxes applicable at the acquisition, holding or disposition of the Fund's Units under the laws of the countries of their respective citizenship, residence or domicile. Prospective Unitholders who are fiscally resident in countries outside Luxembourg are referred to the relevant addendum to this Prospectus. Such addenda's are prepared for countries, where the Fund has obtained marketing approval and where these countries' laws require such addenda's.

Appendix to the simplified prospectus relating to the Sub-Fund

Global Emerging Markets

A) INVESTMENT INFORMATION

Investment objective	This Sub-Fund will invest in transferable securities, mainly equities and equity-related securities quoted on various Official Stock Exchanges in emerging markets. The investment in emerging markets countries may include, but will not be limited to investment in the countries mentioned in the following paragraph. The investments will be made according to expected performance; sectors, countries and currencies may be overweighted or underweighted accordingly. List of countries: Mexico, Brazil, Chile, Argentina, Peru, Venezuela, Colombia, Korea, Taiwan, Hong Kong, China, Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia, Philippines, India, Sri Lanka, Russia (with maximum 10% of the net assets), Poland, Hungary, Czech Republic, Estonia, Lithuania, Latvia, Slovenia, Slovakia, Croatia, Romania, Turkey, Israel, Egypt, Jordan, Morocco, South Africa, Bulgaria and Cyprus, and in other emerging market countries as defined by the emerging markets classification of Standard and Poor's/IFCG and Standard and Poor's/Frontier Markets. Furthermore the Sub-Fund is allowed to invest in companies with a major part of their business in emerging markets but quoted in other OECD countries. The Sub-Fund may invest in securities of developing countries, including Eastern Europe, with new or developing capital markets. These countries may have relatively unstable governments, economies based on only a few industries and securities markets that trade a limited number of securities. Securities of issuers located in these countries tend to have volatile prices and offer the potential for substantial losses as well as gains. Undertakings for collective investment, which invest their assets in these countries, are subject to the same risks. In addition, these securities may be less liquid than investments in more established markets as a result of inadequate trading volume or restrictions on trading imposed by the governments of such countries. In addition, developing markets may have increased risks associated with clearance and settlement. Delays in settlement could result in periods of uninvested assets, missed investment opportunities or losses to the Sub-Fund. Furthermore, investments in Russia are currently subject to certain heightened risks with regard to the ownership and custody of securities. In Russia this is evidenced by entries in the books of a company or its registrar (which is neither an agent nor responsible to the Custodian). No certificates representing ownership of Russian companies will be held by the Custodian or any of its local correspondents or in an effective central depository system. As a result of this system and the lack of the effective state regulation and enforcement, the Sub-Fund could lose its registration and ownership of Russian securities through fraud, negligence or even mere oversight. In addition, Russian debt securities have an increased custodial risk associated with them as such securities are, in accordance with market practice, held in custody with Russian institutions which may not have adequate insurance coverage to cover loss due to theft, destruction or default whilst such assets are in its custody. The Sub-Fund's investments in Russia, combined with investments that are made in other assets than Transferable Securities as defined in section 4.1 through 4.5 of the full Prospectus, shall not exceed 10% of the net assets of the Sub-Fund, except for transferable securities and money market instruments which are listed on the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange (MICEX) and on the Russian Trading System (RTS) which are recognized as regulated markets. For the purpose of hedging and/or efficient portfolio management, the Sub-Fund may use financial derivative instruments as mentioned in Section 4. (B) of the full Prospectus as well as the pooling and co-management described in Section 3.1 of the full Prospectus. The Sub-Fund may invest up to 10% of its net assets in shares / units of other investment funds which comply with the rules set out in Section 4 of the full Prospectus.
Performance data	The yield figures are shown as percentage p.a.

Class A for the period 13 December 2002 to 31 December 2009:

Class I for the period 2 March 2007 to 31 December 2009:

Class X, no historical data available, this Class has not yet been launched.

Risk profile

The value of the portfolio of the Sub-Fund is calculated on the basis of the market value of the individual equities held by the Sub-Fund, which are issued by companies domiciled in rapidly growing, but not yet fully developed national markets. The market value is influenced by the capital market players' expectations concerning the economic development of the issuing companies, which are also affected by political risks of the countries of issue and these countries' currency exchange rates. Due to the market concentration ratio, the possibilities of diversification in the Sub-Fund's portfolio can be reduced.

The market capitalisation may be low, high volatility can appear.

The Distributor of the Sub-Fund has made the following risk classification of the Sub-Fund:

Step 1	Step 2	Step 3	Step 4	Step 5	Step 6
Low Risk					High Risk

Risk classification:

- Step 1: Bond Funds with low risk – with a minimum investment horizon of 1 year.
- Step 2: Bond Funds with medium risk – with a minimum investment horizon of 2 years.
- Step 3: Bond Funds with high risk – with a minimum investment horizon of 4 years.
- Step 4: Equity Funds with low risk – with a minimum investment horizon of 6 years.
- Step 5: Equity Funds with medium risk – with a minimum investment horizon of 8 years.
- Step 6: Equity Funds with high risk – with a minimum investment horizon of 10 years.

Profile of a Typical Investor

The Sub-Fund is suitable for any investor type including those who are not interested in or informed about capital market topics, but who see investment funds as a convenient way of participating in capital market developments. It is also suitable for more experienced investors wishing to attain defined investment objectives. The investor must have experience with volatile products. The investor must be able to accept significant temporary losses, thus the Sub-Fund is suitable for investors who can afford to set aside the capital for at least 10 years.

The Sub-Fund is designed for the investment objective of building up capital. For a widely diversified investor's portfolio, it may be suitable as an investment intermixture.
